

1 30. (amended) Module according to claim 29, characterized
2 in that the message is a notification message that relates
3 to a message stored in the server [(2)].

1 32. (amended) Module according to claim 26, characterized
2 by means for detecting a terminal-status code (d), relating
3 to the status of the terminal [(7)] and the passing on of
4 that status code via the network [(5)] to the server [(2)].

1 34. (amended) Module according to [one of the preceding
2 claims 26-33] claim 26 characterized in that the module is
3 implemented as hardware.

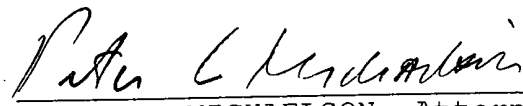

1 35. (amended) Module according to [one of the preceding
2 claims 26-33] claim 26 characterized in that the module is
3 implemented as software. --.

REMARKS

The foregoing amendment is made to delete multiple dependent claims and remove numerical references.

Respectfully submitted,

25 February 2002

Peter L. MICHAELSON, Attorney
Reg. No. 30,090
Customer No. 007265
(732) 530-6671

MICHAELSON & WALLACE
Counselors at Law
Parkway 109 Office Center
328 Newman Springs Road
P.O. Box 8489
Red Bank, New Jersey 07701